CHECK LIST

Students must provide a copy of all previous certificates as part of the Dan grading application process, ensuring that their progression and achievements are properly documented. Additionally, candidates are required to attend the Corner Judging Course and the First Aid Course before the grading. These courses are essential for developing a comprehensive understanding of the responsibilities involved in Taekwondo competitions and ensuring that students are equipped with the necessary skills to handle emergency situations safely and effectively. Completion of these courses demonstrates a commitment to both the practical and safety aspects of the martial art.

COACHING HOURS

As part of the criteria for the Dan grading application, students are required to complete coaching hours. However, these coaching hours must be conducted outside of the candidate's regular training class. The coaching should take place with beginner or intermediate classes, providing the candidate with an opportunity to mentor and guide less experienced students. This is an important aspect of the grading process, as it demonstrates the candidate's ability to teach, lead, and communicate effectively. To arrange these coaching hours, candidates should speak directly with their coach to schedule and confirm suitable times for coaching sessions.
